

Year Book Receives 'Green Light'

HIGHLIGHTS OF CURRENT EVENTS

By BILL DENNIS

On October 27, 1948, one of our San Francisco dailies published an editorial concerning the candidacy of Franck Havenner, congressional candidate from San Francisco's Fourth District.

The editorial was "loaded" against the candidate. By inference only slightly veiled, the editorial accused Havenner of "everything in the book."

It started off by saying that a "vote for Havenner was a vote for Bridges." By use of the innuendo and half-truth (a usage common to this particular daily), the editorial implied that Mr. Havenner, if not an actual member of the Communist Party, was at least a "violent fellow traveler."

STILL NEEDS SHAVE

About two weeks after the appearance of this editorial, a retraction was printed on the front page of this newspaper (we use the term lightly). In effect, the retraction said, "sorry Mr. Havenner, we didn't really mean to damage your character or give the voters of your district any wrong impressions about your past record in Congress."

It is not so important in this writer's opinion that a retraction of a libelous or slanderous piece of writing was printed. The really important point is the TIMING.

APPROPRIATE INTERVALS

The editorial appeared on October 27; the election took place on November 2; the retraction was printed November 17, two full weeks after the election.

Had Mr. Havenner lost the election it is conceivable that this editorial would have aided materially in his defeat. Congressman Havenner has as liberal a voting record as any member of Congress. This fact alone makes him a target for the yellow journalists, whose favorite pastime is sniping at anyone whose views are even slightly to the left of President McKinley.

The really heart-warming aftermath of this whole, rather sordid affair, is that the voters of the Fourth District were not snowed by this phoney editorial propaganda. Instead they got out and supported a real liberal and sent Franck Havenner back to Washington where he will continue to work in the interest of the people and will not spend his time composing laudatory telegrams to himself.

Schwarz Heads Parley at State

National Students Association sub-regional cultural commission met at State for a conference last Sunday. Mardi Schwarz, State student and regional culture chairman, headed the confab.

Present at the conference were delegates from University of California, Holy Names, Santa Clara, California School of Arts and Crafts and State. Only five out of 10 regional colleges were represented.

According to Miss Schwarz, specific events were planned on a college level: a spring choral festival for the World Student Service Fund, an inter-collegiate variety show to be held some time in March, bulletin boards for the camp heralding coming cultural events; and student rates at various theatres and operas.

Also under discussion was a possible play-writing contest.

Winter Inklings Debut Monday

Inklings, State's literary magazine, will go on sale Monday. This was announced by the staff today. The magazine will be priced at 25 cents and also will be sold in various off-campus bookstores, including the University of California.

The 20-page edition features the best in stories, poems and art by State students. A board of judges, composed of faculty members and students, will award a $5 prize to the best article.

The editors added that a surprise offer is included in the issue of which every purchaser may take advantage of.

Editors are John Conway, Marvin Grasse and Ronald Lambert. Layout manager is Jean Heldoorn.

'Personal Appearance' in Final Performances

Festival Program Mapped

Following is a daily outline of festivities mapped for the annual Christmas Cheer Week:

Monday: Christmas Carols, accompanied by the brass ensemble, inaugurate the week's ceremonies on a high note, atop College Hall at noon.

Tuesday: State Christmas Festival in the Gym, 12:30 p.m.

Wednesday: Combined Men's and Women's Glee Club will present a concert in Frederic Burk Auditorium at 1 p.m.

Thursday: The Christmas Week Dinner in the Cafeteria. Concert by a Cappella Choir at 8:15 p.m. at Marina Junior High School, Bay and Fillmore Streets. (See story elsewhere, this page.)

Friday: A Cappella Choir, accompanied by a brass ensemble, will blanket the campus, singing carols, to end the week's festivities and signify the beginning of a two-week vacation for State students.

(For additional details, see story below.)

Monday to Mark Opening Of Christmas Cheer Week

Christmas will come a little early this year, at least for State students. This Monday, the Christmas Cheer Week Program, sponsored by the combined student body and faculty, will include such traditional events as a turkey dinner, caroling, Christmas trees and everything but the snow.

CAFETERIA

New Coffee Plan Outlined By Lehan

In order to insure competent service for students who buy coffee during the 10 minute passing time between classes, Mrs. Erna Lehan, director of food service, has asked for the co-operation of the student body as follows:

1. Have the exact change ready. Do not stand in front of the cashier trying to find the needed money; this only slows the line down.
2. If only coffee or doughnuts is desired, use the cold counter as well as the regular food counter, for it is open after 9 o'clock.
3. After the purchase has been made, do not loiter in front of the cashier.

"The cafeteria is doing all in its power to help aid the students," Mrs. Lehan remarked, "and the students have responded to the new seating arrangement very well."

The 20 cent minimum purchase hours have been shortened from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 6 cent candy bars have been reduced to 5 cents, both with the purpose of benefiting the students.

Robinson Plugs Cagers

Toni Robinson, member-at-large, plugged State basketball over Carroll Hansen's radio show last Wednesday night.

As Dr. Edward Cassidy, chairman of the Noel Committee, reported, "We're going to give Santa a real headstart by giving a merry season, a cheery greeting, from a friendly college."

RECESS PLANNED

The faculty, feeling its jolliest, will dismiss classes at 12:25 on Tuesday and Thursday, permitting students to attend the Christmas Festival and Christmas Dinner, respectively.

The turkey dinner, including everything from soup to nuts, looms as an outstanding event. There also will be entertainment featuring the Faculty Quartet and a 16-voice group under Joseph Eubanks. All are invited, and tickets are $1.50.

VARIETY SHOW SET

The Christmas Festival at 12:30 Tuesday in the Gym, will be on the order of a big variety show, with drama skits under Mrs. Jacqueline Ogg, the Mixed Choir, directed by Dr. D. Sterling Wheelwright, the State Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Lee Chrisman, and Coach Hal Harden's tumbling team performing.

Music Federation to Toss Yuletide Party Monday

Holiday spirit, complete with Santa Claus and a Christmas tree, will reign at the Music Federation's annual Yuletide party Monday night, according to Hal Graubart, Fed president. Scheduled from 8 to 11:30 p.m. in Annex B-9, the affair will accent dancing and impromptu carolling.

Last Showing Tomorrow in Auditorium

For the first time in college history, prospective customers were turned away at last Saturday's performance of "Personal Appearance," which concludes its run to-night and tomorrow night at Frederic Burk Auditorium.

Starring Dot Lipsey as Carole Arden, the play tells the story of what happens when a movie queen on a personal appearance tour stops at a tourist home run by a handsome young man.

Production begins with a color movie shot on campus by Joe Franklin.

Don Sagner appears as Chester Norton and Audrey Forney is cast as Joyce Struthers.

Others in the cast include: Nancy Cunningham, Eleanor Webster, Cate Cotter, John Graham, Ralph McCombs, C. Y. Green Jr., Jeanne Williams and Bill Witt.

The play is directed by Clarence A. Miller.

Admission is 60 cents with student body card, 90 cents without and 50 cents for high school students.

Curtain is at 8:30 p.m. See review, Page 2.)

FRUIT BOWL

Tide Gains Trophy For Participation

A three-foot bronze trophy was presented to the State football squad for its participation in the Fruit Bowl Sunday.

Coach Dick Boyle received the trophy from the Fruit Bowl Association, and in turn handed it to Co-Captains Tony Morrow and Frank Rinaldi. The ceremonies took place at the post-game rally at the Edgewater Sunday night.

The trophy, inscribed "Fruit Bowl 1948," is on display in the Bookstore.

In addition to the trophy, State received a $5000 check from the Fruit Bowl Association, its guarantee to State for its participation in the contest. The money will be turned over to the light fund, according to Charles A. Roumasset, administrator of student affairs. (See Board story, elsewhere this page.)

47 Workshop Donations

Twenty-seven musicians contributed 47 original selections to the Composers' Workshop concert held Monday night in Frederic Burk Auditorium. Directed by Wendell Otey, associate professor of music, and William Ward, assistant professor of music, the affair was open to the public.

A Cappella Choir to Give Musicales Thursday Night

A three-part program is planned by A Cappella Choir members for their traditional Christmas presentation, which will be presented Thursday night. Slated for 8:15 p.m. in Marina Junior High School Auditorium, the musicale will be directed by Roy Freeburg, professor of music. Sponsored by the Music Federation and the Division of Creative Arts, admission to the festival of Christmas music is complimentary to the public.

First half of the evening will be devoted to international carols. Sharing the spotlight for the second half of the program will be selections by the newly-formed group, tentatively known as the State Singers, and the entire choir in the third part of J. S. Bach's Christmas Oratorio.

Soloists of the evening include Gregory O'Berry, Audrey Morrice, Elizabeth Thatcher, Hazel Brewer and Joseph Eubanks.

The State Singers, a 16-voice group, is directed by Joseph Eubanks and managed by Keith Bee.

Marina Junior High School Auditorium may be reached directly by the "24" Divisadero Street bus.

Radio Staff Adds Two Producers

Mr. Richard Bertrandias and Mr. Monty Masters, producers with the National Broadcasting Company, have been added to the radio staff, it was announced this week.

"Addition of Mr. Bertrandias and Mr. Masters to our faculty brings to our department as fine a team of professional producers with a real enthusiasm for teaching as could be found anywhere in this country," said J. Fenton McKenna, associate professor of speech and drama.

DIRECTORS MEET

Light Fund Gets $5000 Bowl Check

Fruit Bowl game results and giving of the green light on the Franciscan constituted major business of the Tuesday meeting of the Board of Directors.

David J. Cox, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, told the Board that he had turned over a check for $5000 to Charles A. Roumasset, administrator of student affairs. The money was the amount guaranteed by the Fruit Bowl Association for the team's participation in the game. The sum, less cost of the maroon and white team jackets, will be allocated to the light fund.

The game had done much, Cox said, to putting into action precepts on race relations.

Franciscan staff members reported they had collected $1233.26 in the recent sales campaign, and received the go-ahead to continue preparations for the annual. (See story, column 7.)

Other Board business included committee reports on social security and communications.

IRC to 'Potluck' At College Sunday

International Relations Club will hold an informal "pot luck" dinner this Sunday from 4:30 to 9 p.m. in the Activities Room, according to Art Padilla, IRC president.

Idea for the dinner, Padilla stated, is to stimulate further interest between the regular students and the foreign students on the campus. The menu will possibly include various desserts of foreign countries to add to the theme.

IRC emphasized that all members and friends of the clubs are invited. Padilla especially expressed the hope that members of National Students Association and its Foreign Relations Commission would attend.

152 Degree Candidates File Their Applications

One hundred fifty-two candidates for degrees and credentials now have filed applications, according to information received from the Registrar's office.

Two students have filed for a Bachelor of Education degree, 140 for Bachelor of Arts degrees and 12 are seeking Diploma Credentials.

Board Votes For Extension Of Deadline

All doubts about having a 1949 Franciscan disappeared last Tuesday as the Board of Directors voted to extend the time limit for selling yearbooks. The doubt was caused when Business Manager Barbara Roberts totaled the sales on last Friday's deadline and discovered that sales were $300 short of completing the goal of $1500.

Editor Jean Heldoorn felt confident the students would respond to the Franciscan's financial dilemma and help to insure publication if more time were allotted for sales, and presented the appeal for approval to the Board meeting. It was passed unanimously.

RESPONSE NEEDED

Miss Heldoorn stated, "Now that the Board has given us the go ahead signal we hope students will give us the full response in sales by buying their annual as soon as possible."

The Franciscan sales campaign will be continued through the Spring term. Plans to step up the campaign have been made by Phyllis Ford, sales manager. There will be a booth in front of the Co-op every day manned by members of service societies and fraternities. Orders for the yearbook also may be paid in the Golden Gate Office, Hut 4-B, or to individual salesmen.

Contracts for engraving, printing and the covers were signed Tuesday with Lederer, Street and Zeus Co.

PICTURE SCHEDULE

Franciscan staff is endeavoring this year to present complete pictorial coverage of all students. With this idea in mind something new will be tried in accomplishing this end. Class pictures will be taken of sophomore and junior classes, while freshmen in the general education courses will be covered by classroom shots illustrating the new trend in lower division courses. Group shots of the two classes will be taken next week, according to the following schedule:

Tuesday, Dec. 14—Sophomores, A to M, 1 to 12:15; Sophomores M to Z, 12:15 to 12:30; Juniors, A to M, 12:30 to 12:45; Juniors, M to Z, 12:45 to 1.

Thursday, Dec. 16—Sophomores, A to M, 1 to 1:15; Sophomores M to Z, 1:15 to 1:30; Juniors, A to M, 1:30 to 1:45; Juniors, M to Z, 1:45 to 2.

All shots will be taken at the Rally Bowl near the Snack Bar, unless the weather man plays tricks. If so, pictures will be taken in the Gym. All members of these classes are urged to be present at the appointed time.

Junior Prom Site Is Fairmont Hotel

Junior Prom will be held January 7 from 9 to 1 in the Terrace Room of the Fairmont Hotel. Music will be by George Snyder and his orchestra. Bids will be $2.50 per couple.

Voting for the Junior Prom queen will be done at the door with two votes allowed to a bid. The queen will be crowned and awarded a trophy at the dance. Candidates for queen are Florabelle Smith, Bib 'n' Tucker; Madge Ludi, Music Federation; Pat Sweeney, Phi Lambda Chi and Newman Club; Virginia Burke, Kappa Theta; Lee Sund, Delta Phi Gamma and Sigma Delta Gamma; Rosemary Donahue, Alpha Omega and Phi Epsilon Mu, and Carole Stephens, Block S.

The dance will be formal, according to President Tony Matulich. Dark suits for the men, however, will be acceptable.

Adler Now a Fellow

Dan L. Adler, associate professor of psychology, has been informed of his election as a Fellow in the Division of Counseling and Guidance of the American Psychological Association.

Coach Dan Farmer announced today that the location and date of the State-Sacramento basketball game has been changed to San Francisco City College Gym, next Tuesday night.

The game previously was scheduled for Kesar Pavilion on Wednesday.

Saturday, December 18, the Gators tangle with College of the Pacific at Kesar.

After Long Hours of Preparation...

State College Radio Guild a Reality

By TOM MAXWELL

After long hours in discussion of preliminary problems and determination of policies necessary for a new organization, the Radio Guild of State College has been formed and has appointed its officers, elected its members, and is in process of full production.

Under the advisement of Mr. Ray Doyle, head of radio department, the Guild will function as a student organization with the main purpose of augmenting the growth of educational radio, and to give those interested in radio a chance to display their talents, as well as offering entertainment for the campus and general public through the medium of radio.

The Radio Guild also will serve as a source of announcements and radio talent for productions of other campus organizations. Steps now are being taken to arrange a series of programs in the field of public service to offer discussions about social, political and scientific problems and advancements with department heads and instructors.

To offer its debut on the air as an organization, the Radio Guild will broadcast from the studios of KROW a drama entitled "The Origin of the First Christmas Seal."

Cafeteria Is Losing Money

Now that the loose ends of the Creative Arts compromise are being tied up, the Board of Directors may have time to plug up some of the holes in its leaky financial dyke.

One of the biggest of these apertures is the Associated Students' Cafeteria. For some while "the Coop" has been decorating the ledger with a lot of red ink. It is time that something more effective than the 20 cents minimum be given a try.

Increasing facilities by opening the Snack Bar has augmented the volume of business conducted under the auspices of the Cafeteria. It is hoped by members of the Board of Directors that a sufficient gain will be realized in the future to put the Cafeteria back in the black.

Before that can be done, however, student co-operation must be enlisted. The coming of the rainy season has brought campus life indoors. The "Coop" and the Snack Bar will be more congested as a result.

At the beginning of the semester the Store Council tried to get an extra hut near the Snack Bar for students who bring lunches. There were none available.

Student patronage of the Cafeteria and Snack Bar, despite crowded conditions, will help greatly in getting the Cafeteria back on its feet. Meanwhile, the Store Council, doing what it can, is considering plans to rearrange the Cafeteria in order to serve more students adequately.—E. E.

A LIVELY CHARACTER

Meet the Dynamo

By ED LEVITT

Amiable Al "Gabe" Gabriel is a little guy with a lot of big jobs. Gabe is manager of the football team, which, in part, entails lugging tackling dummies and gear around, handling players' uniforms and being a general handy-man.

Gabe is Secretary to the Student Body, taking down proceedings at all Board of Directors meetings.

Gabe is Chairman of the Store Council, presiding over the meetings and acting as liaison between the Associated Students and members on the Council.

Gabe is a member of the Health Council on campus, representing student needs.

And brother Gabe is also a family man. With three years of married life behind him, he boasts of 17-months-old Sir Gibbs—or Alfred Gabriel the Third.

While wife Jeannette cares for Junior at their Lake Merced dwelling, Al is busily engaged in his 16-unit program at State—or is engrossed in his extracurricular activities.

Mr. Dynamo's favorite job, however, is acting as manager for State's athletic squads.

Gabe's role of baseball manager and bench jockey last year caused rival players and umpires no end of consternation.

The collegiate "Lippy" Durocher would moan loud and strong to the umps when a decision was rendered against State.

But the men in blue weren't the only ones to feel the wrath of Gabriel's mighty voice.

Gabe would heckle opposing players to the cutting point.

"You're a bum," Gabriel would shout. "You can't hit a ball with a tennis racket!"

His verbal gymnastics would arouse the opposition to fighting fury.

Rarely did a game go by that The Gabe didn't find himself in a position where rival athletes wouldn't give 20 points off their batting averages just for one belt at darlin' Albert's kisser.

But Albert's features remained intact throughout the campaign.

At the start of the football season, Gabe was all set to cut loose with his usual routine...

But, before he even got heated to his task, he was warned by the officials to refrain from "yelling" from the sidelines.

Unable to employ his prize forte, Gabe turned to spreading syrupy words of encouragement for the benefit of the Gator squad.

"Atta boy, you're playing great," Gabe would tell a player, or "We'll get 'em now," he'd say while passing the water bottle around during the time-outs.

Gabe, who is majoring in elementary education, has high hopes that his Junior will eventually make the sports pages.

"I want the kid to be an athlete," Gabe commented.

"If he's a bookworm I'll break his glasses!"

'Personal Appearance' Sparkling Hit!

By CAROLYN TRUSTY

Every so often College Theatre finds the recipe for a sparkling comedy—adds a dash of well-seasoned talent and comes up with a tasty dish of delightful entertainment.

Such is the case with "Personal Appearance" which skips gaily from innuendo to innuendo as does its leading character from man to man.

It is often the case in amateur productions that the script carries the whole show, but in this instance a fine balance between delightful lines and professional interpretation is achieved.

DORIS LIPSEY CLICKS

Cast as Carole Arden, who is billed as "the type of woman most women both dislike and envy" is Doris Lipsey, who gives one of the most polished comedy performances it has been our pleasure to witness at State. Aided by an eye-filling wardrobe, Miss Lipsey emotes her way through an incident in the life of a temperamental actress.

An exceptionally amusing characterization is that of Nancy Cunningham's portrayal of Gladys Kelcey, a movie-struck teen-ager with illusions of theatrical grandeur.

Don Sagner is cast as Bud Norton, the object of Carole Arden's fleeting if rather tempestuous affections. We got the impression that it isn't all acting—that he really is a little afraid of her.

MUCH ADO

Audrey Forney forms the other third of the triangle, which before the night is over turns into a merry-go-round. The part she plays is difficult in that it is always easier to burlesque a part than to act quietly normal. Miss Forney's characterization is weak, but we feel with experience she could develop into a fine actress. Her voice is pleasing.

Miss Arden's long suffering public relations director, "a man with a Hollywood mind," is portrayed excellently by Ralph McCombs. He gives an especially amusing performance.

Hilarious are Eleanor Webster, as Aunt Kate, an old maid with young ideas; John Graham, Gladys' teen age boy-friend, and C. Y. Green, Jr., as Carole's long-suffering chauffeur. Jeanne Williams is seen briefly as Carole's maid of all work.

We would enjoy seeing Cate Cotter, who plays Mrs. Struthers, again, as we feel that along with Miss Lipsey she gave the most consistent performance of the evening.

FINE DIRECTING

The movie sequence, directed by Josef Franklin and Charles W. Telford, was beautifully done. Bill Witt gives a professional performance as co-star in the movie sequence.

Excellent incidental music was composed by Raymond Frazier.

If we sound as though we have gone overboard for this production, we can only say in the words of "Carole Arden," "take a relaxitive" and drop in to Fred-eric Burk and see for yourself.

SPORTS BEAT

By GORDON RADDUE

Plaudits are in order for Al Gabriel and John Pasanen, manager and trainer of the football team, respectively, for their stirring, 60-minute performances on the Kezar turf last Sunday. Although they didn't make any tackles, the lads did a neat job of wiping off the soggy pigskin after each play.

In the post-game confusion, "Gabe" is reported to have rated the Southerners a peg above Cal's Rose Bowl-bound eleven. No doubt the hustling manager was waxing hyperbolic, but Bill Fischer, the veteran referee who officiated the quagmire contest, was bold enough to voice the opinion that the Jaguar Cats could probably edge such Coast powers as San Jose State and College of the Pacific.

Incidentally, when State's Amos Adkins trotted onto the field in the fourth quarter to take over an end position, he was greeted with a hearty handshake from Fischer. Reason for the display of affection is the fact that Adkins was an All-City member of Fisher's Commerce High eleven before the war.

A man graced with versatility is Sebastian "Cub" Rubio. In addition to pitching baseballs and backing up football lines for State, Rubio can negotiate a piano keyboard with professional finesse, despite the fact that he plays entirely by ear.

Success story of the year in State sports is the elevation of Half-back Jack Caruso from the jayvee ranks to the varsity, for whom he blossomed last Sunday as the hardest running back on the squad. He figured in the two most exciting plays of the game, from a State standpoint, by running back a kick-off 35 yards, and passing to Amos Adkins for 38 yards. He looms as an important factor in Coach Dick Boyle's plans for the 1949 campaign.

The name of Vic Cuccia, who starred at center for Occidental against State November 13, should strike a familiar note to those who remember the great "Singing Saints" of St. Mary's, who went to the Sugar Bowl in 1946. Cuccia held down the starting pivot position for Coach Jimmy Phelan, who was then head coach at the Moraga institution.

George Kamian, the crack Gator quarter miler who dropped out of school after breaking his leg playing jayvee football last October, will return to State next Spring, but will be unable to compete in track because of the injury. He won't be out of track and field altogether, however. A former high school sports editor, George will cover the cinderpath sport for the Golden Gater, and no doubt do an excellent job of it.

State Hoopsters Win Two Games, But Bow to Pacific

By GORDON RADDUE

KEZAR PAVILION, Dec. 5—A not-too-tall State basketball team, which generally is forced to out-hustle rangier rivals for victories, was given a lesson in that phase of the game tonight by an artless but energetic quintet from Pasadena College in a game that saw the highly favored Gators barely squeak through to a 66-60 triumph.

The overconfident Staters played as flat a ball game as they ever will against the smaller Pasadenaans, whose ball hawking technique came close to producing the upset to end all upsets.

State held a shaky 32-26 lead at half-time, but the visitors roared back in the final stanza, with tiny Jim Jandreau and Rod Davis showing the way, to knot the count at 54 apiece, six minutes before the final whistle.

At this point, the Gators pulled away for good on field goals by Angelo Maestri and "Tex" Willford, high scorer for the night with 19 points. Dick Jaensch and John Burton netted 15 points to follow Willford, while Davis also dropped in 15 to lead Pasadena.

Maestri, though held to seven points, carried the brunt of back-board control for State and fed the ball brilliantly from his center slot.

LOSE TO COP

Stockton, Dec. 4—The basketball game played here tonight between State and College of the Pacific took the air of a football battle, as 48 fouls were called before the Tigers finally won, 70-60.

The Gators, paced by Johnny Burton's 24-point assault on the hoop, were in the running almost to the finish. They trailed, 35-31, at the intermission.

Bill Wirt, former Alameda High School sensation, sparked the winners with 20 digits.

TIDE SCORES UPSET

S. F. Army, Dec. 1—In a game replete with thrills and excitement, a fighting Golden Tide quintet overcame an 11-point half-time deficit to squeeze past the highly regarded California National Guard 49ers, 54-52 tonight.

Pulling the Gators through with another one of his famous second half "explosions" was little "Mr. Big," Johnny Burton, who plunked 13 points through the mesh to bring his high point total for the night to 18. Right behind Burton in scoring was big Angelo Maestri, who enjoyed himself for 17 points before fouling out late in the game.

Kimura Stars as Matmen Tilt Lions

By BOB CALLAN

In a grueling meet last Friday at San Quentin, the grappling Gators garnered four pins, enabling them to edge out the Lions, 20-16. The rough going produced three elbow injuries and one lacerated lip, of which three of the mishaps were sustained by State men.

Outstanding performance of the meet was turned in by Joe Kimura (128), Coach Gustafson's varsity mainstay, when he pinned his man in 26 seconds flat.

Don "Bonecrusher" Burbank (118) won by a default, as his opponent suffered a serious elbow dislocation. Two other pins were tallied on the State side of the ledger by Jerry Friedman (135) and Russ Meserole (155).

"Brandy" Brandeberry (175) and John De Gregorio (light heavy) dropped close decisions to rugged S. Q. matsters. Two victims of defaults, due to injuries, were Otto Graf (145) and Bud Call (165), which scored as pins for the Quentin mat team.

In four J. V. matches State grip-men came out on top thrice—Joe Griggs (118), "Killer" Tye (128), and Bob Cunningham (145), all won via the pin route. Irv Wasserman (165) received a badly cut lip, resulting in a default, and thus wound up a wicked evening.

Mural Basketball

State's intramural basketball program is rolling along smoothly with over 20 teams participating.

One team, Kappa Omega, is dually sponsored by the Kappa Theta and Alpha Omega sororities, who have furnished jerseys for their hoopsters. Intramural Director Bill Harkness is all in favor of this kind of backing and hopes to see more of it. Play is held on four courts daily, the Gym, Salvation Army and two outside courts.

JAYVEES

Li'l Gator Cagers Play Close Battles

A last half rally falling short, State's jayvees were nosed out by the Fire Department, 44-39, in a game played December 7 at Kezar Pavilion. As usual, the jayvees were not at full strength, with Center Jack Shienberg and Dick Silva missing from the lineup. Chick De Lee led the losers with nine points.

In an exciting game, the Gators defeated Washington High, 43-40, in an overtime tilt at the prepsters' gym. The Eagles led most of the way, but with five seconds to go, De Lee hit a 40-footer to tie the game at 37-all. Buckets by Al Bristo and Shienberg in the overtime period were the differential. The State lightweights, led by Homer "Baby Face" Zugelder, lost a toughie to Washington's "30's", 37-32.

Bosco A. C., composed of U. S. F. football players, downed State, 54-45, in a game which found the lead change hands several times. John Dilg and De Lee paced the Baby Gators with 10 points each.

The day previous, Lincoln High's AAA champs slaughtered State, 63-32, with Shienberg absent. In the preliminary, the jayvee lightweights won, 45-33, from the Lincoln babes, with Dave Goplen, Bob Douglas, Howie Schinnerer and Zugelder leading the way.

The jayvees have been playing some tough opposition this year, but are developing steadily.

WAA Keglers Vie With Cal Bowlers

State's Women's Athletic Association bowling team will take on the University of California keggers this afternoon at the Downtown Bowl, Eddy and Jones Street. Headed by manager Shirley Sikol, this event will be evenly matched since this is the first such scheduled.

With Ernestine Moore as manager, WAA volleyball sessions are now being conducted on the lower basketball courts on Mondays and Tuesdays, 12 noon. Any women interested in turning out should sign up immediately as competition will be held among freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior teams.

Soccer Ace Dalton Makes All-Conference First Unit

Despite the fact that his team won but one game this year, State's Pete Dalton was honored as the first string right wing on the 1948 All-Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer Conference team. Dalton was a consistent performer all season long on a team that just couldn't seem to get going.

Tide goalie Don Neatherly was named on the second All-Conference team. Ralph Azevedo, a great defensive star, was elected team captain for the year.

Boylemen Badly Outplayed In Muddy Fruit Bowl Tussle

By TERRY SWEENEY

KEZAR STADIUM, Dec. 5—In the slush and mud of Kezar Stadium, a powerful aggregation from Southern University humbled State's sputtering grid machine, 30-0, today in the second annual Fruit Bowl tussle before an estimated 5000 fans who braved the inclement weather. The Jaguar Cats, South-

Boxers Edged By Rams in Ring Debut

By ED LEVITT

Gator Mike De Gregorio's slashing win over J. E. Jackson, 155-pound Ram pugilist, was one of the highlights of the State-City College boxing matches held in the latter's gym Tuesday night.

State battlers also recorded three other wins on the 14 bout fight program. Three of the matches ended in draws.

State's boxers meet the Chico mittmen next Tuesday night at Chico.

In one of the most exciting bouts on the card, Gator Don Gephart, 160-pound warrior, lost a disputed decision to City College's Darrell Victor.

State's Yet Tom, battling in the 130-pound class, cleanly outpointed Leonard Garcia in a slam-bang encounter. The boys tore at each other from bell to bell.

A surprising upset was registered in the 135-pound division when Gator Jackie Campbell was beaten by Jerry Stern. The jumping-jack just didn't have it, being beaten to the punch repeatedly by the faster Stern.

In another startling reversal, State's Joe Mirotti decided Nick Cannuli, 145-pound novice champ.

Other results were: Tony Jeong (S) drew with Joe Wolf (118 lbs.); Imm Jansen (S) drew with Ernie Sato (126 lbs.); John Barrett (S) lost decision to Phil Karp (150 lbs.); Clarence Bristol (S) lost decision to Joe Veauksovic (150 lbs.); Dick Boyd (S) drew with Neil Sheldardin (160 lbs.); Gene Abramson (S) lost decision to Roy Damas (135 lbs.); Cleveland Given (S) won decision over Ray Dams (155 lbs.); Bill Grimm (165 lbs.) lost decision to Oscar Brown (165 lbs.); Bruce Bruneman (S) lost decision to Bill Sulgo (heavyweight).

west Negro champions, chalked up their eleventh straight victory of the season in the game, which is said to be the first inter-racial football game in United States history.

After slushing around midfield most of the first quarter, the visitors climaxed a 32-yard second period drive with Willie Phillips plunging over from the five. Odie Posey kicked the first of four straight conversions to give Southern a 7-0 lead at the half.

CATS COME ON

In the second half the Cats really got rolling, piling up nine points in the third quarter and 14 in the final session. They drove 56 yards, with Phillips climaxed the march with a 26-yard sprint off his own right guard.

State had a safety registered against it when, after Tony Matulich had staved off a Southern drive by recovering Henry Taylor's fumble on the State four, Jack Caruso was tackled in the end zone, boosting the score to 16-0.

The Cats raised the tally to 23-0 when John Sanderson passed 13 yards to Aaron Thompson early in the fourth period. A few minutes later Posey ran 74 yards, cutting and dodging several would-be State tacklers on a beautiful run for the game's final tally.

CARUSO PASSES CLICKS

The Gators never threatened until late in the fourth quarter, when Caruso passed for 38 yards to End Amos Adkins for State's initial first down.

The weather slowed both teams, but seemed to hinder State more. The sloppy going threw a monkey wrench into Coach Dick Boyle's plans for a wide open attack. Dick Peters and Jack Newell played outstanding ball in the line for the Gators, along with Tony Morrow, who was injured in the second quarter. Kroeckel played great defensive ball in the secondary, in addition to punting well under the adverse conditions.

Expressionists Lauded For Stimulating Show

The newly formed Art Club of State today completed its second bi-annual exhibition of student art work, which ran during the past week. This exhibition featured a wide diversity of art expression ranging from pure abstraction and geometric design to straight forward realism.

Impressive is the fact that regardless of the artistic background and development of the individual artist, one sensed in all the work a deep sincerity and joy of creation. One felt that the work was done not to meet an assignment for a particular art course, but rather because the artist had something to say and wanted to express himself.

BIGGEST SHOW

Most of the work was done out of class, while some of the contributing artists were not enrolled in an art course.

Another interesting and significant aspect of the second bi-annual was the fact that a comparatively large number of artists participated in what was perhaps one of the largest art shows seen at State. This fact would seem to lend weight to the observation of art authorities that never since the Renaissance period has the world seen such a vigorous activity in the art movement as that which is taking place in America today.

On reviewing the second bi-annual, the show gave us convincing proof that the visual arts as a mode of expression is becoming an important and vital part of our present-day culture.

Since the greater part of the work submitted to the exhibition was done by students of art at State, the faculty may take justifiable pride in the results produced by their students.

BOUQUETS IN ORDER

The art faculty, the Art Club, the jury of selection, as well as the contributing artists are all to be congratulated for their efforts in producing an interesting and stimulating art exhibit.

Serving on the jury of selection for the exhibit were: John Gutmann and Seymour Locks of the faculty, and E. Waters, Sutter Marinos, and Irene Sawifer of the Art Club.

The Chico "Wildcat" keeps the ball rolling on a good idea:

"Joe Heath, co-editor of the 'Golden Gater,' thought out loud on the possibility of the new field (Cox Stadium) being used for a Thanksgiving Day bowl game between the football champs of the Southern California Conference and the F. W. C. . . I agree with Heath that a game such as this would give a tremendous boost to spirit within the two loops, and would like to see it come about. Cox Stadium is a good location, being centrally located between Pasadena and Ashland."

The motion has been made and seconded. We would now like to see some action on it.

Impending Holocaust notes: (Ignorance is bliss division.) . . . "Reports indicate that the purpose of Madame Chiang's visit to Washington are shrouded in mist."

With Inklings coming off the press any day now, we fondly hope that there will be no need for an apology such as this, which appeared in the Stanford "Daily" regarding their magazine:

"Due to some inexplicable mistake, the sixteenth page of the December Chaparral is Gil Wheat's homework paper for November 12 in English A."

Staters Are Urged To Consider N. S. A.

By AL MARTINEZ

National Students Association has been introduced, its background traced. We have it—backed by over a million students and constantly growing. The question arises: so what?

GROUP DEFINED

What is National?—"A national non-political, non-sectarian association of American student bodies organized to facilitate an understanding of student problems and the place of the student in the world society."

If that makes sense to anyone, we can leave it there. But even that drawn-out definition is inadequate. There is no concise definition. One must watch it function, and from that draw his conclusion.

NO USURPER

It must constantly be borne in mind that the National Students organization on campus is a sub-committee to the Board of Directors. To understand NSA one must understand this. It will not supplant it and cannot override it. National works through the campus clubs and organizations and does not function on a plane of its own.

Stanford's NSA organization almost crumbled because it didn't co-operate with the student body government. If this happens at State, the whole purpose of National will fail, and the organization will be written in history—an inconclusive experiment.

Food Is Free For Free Jig Next Friday

The freshman class is presenting the "Peppermint Place," Friday, December 17, in the Gym, as a conclusion to Christmas Cheer Week. The dance will feature the music of Bob Greenwald. Admission is free with a student body card and one can of food. The food collected is to be given to a charity organization.

Santa Claus will be present with peppermint sticks for everyone. Highlight of the evening will be the Christmas tree and decorations.

The Junior Prom Queen contestants will be introduced at the dance, according to Ira Berman, president of the freshman class.

Conway Poem Published

John Conway, editor of Inklings, college literary magazine, has received word that his poem, "Perspective," has been accepted for publication in the forthcoming 1948 Anthology of College Poetry.

The anthology is an annual publication of the National Poetry Association and represents a collection of student verse from colleges and universities throughout the country.

Asilomar Conference Prolongs G. E. Life

With the close of the four-day conference at Asilomar, final plans for a two-year general education program were completed, President J. Paul Leonard announced last week. The expansion of the original one-year plan will permit a study of individual needs of students in the selection of a vocation.

Civil Rights to Be On Agenda Tonight

Herman Bottcher Student Branch of the Communist Party is sponsoring a meeting on "The Student's Stake in the Struggle for Civil Rights," at 8 tonight, 321 Divisadero (near Page), according to Howard Norville, State student.

Al Richmond, editor of the Daily People's World, will speak, after which will follow a period of questions and discussion.

In urging attendance of students interested in civil rights, and the implications of current investigations, Norville said, ". . . This attack upon Communists endangers the civil rights of all Americans. The attack upon ideas endangers the integrity of our campuses. The attack upon people for their political beliefs and activities endangers our security in our chosen professions when we graduate."

Off-Campus Soph Strut Attended By 150 Couples

Upwards of 300 people danced to the music of George Snyder and his orchestra at the class of '51 Soph Strut last Friday evening at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

"The affair was a complete success, socially and financially," Roy Ciappini, class president, stated this week.

Courses taken during this period are designed to aid students in personal development, home and family relationships, and competent citizenship as well. The weighing of particular interests, desires, aptitudes, and abilities is a principal factor to be considered.

OCCUPATIONAL OPENINGS

If the student has not chosen an occupation, he will have presented to him the various occupations open to college-trained people, together with a study of his abilities and interests in relation to them.

If he has chosen an occupation, his abilities and interests will be checked in proportion to the standards set for this occupation. Throughout his freshman year he will receive individual guidance and counseling from the faculty member trained in this field.

EMPHASIS ON ADJUSTMENT

An outline of courses on the sophomore level as well as a revision and adjustment of those on the freshman level have been completed. The courses include extensive work in communications involving oral and written speech, human growth and development in terms of physical characteristics as well as in terms of modern scientific progress, philosophy and leisure activities. Emphasis is placed on home and family living, with a study of more general aspects such as recreation, parenthood, health, marital relations, budget balancing, and family-community relationships.
